

Highland Cathedral

(Lyrics for Scotland)

Lyrics by Rob Griffith

Ulrich Roever and Michael Korb

D A D D Bm Em A

Land where the heart beats true new hope shall arise Hands in a circle under northern skies

G D A Bm Em D A D

Here where the open borders call you home Clear are the rousing voices raised as one

A F#m D E A E

Dream your dreams where the future calls Shades of the past laid low at last

A F#m D E A

Minds on fire tear down those walls Build for the here and now

Called by your sacred haven vast and free
All shall be welcomed here to join with thee
Grow as your mountains now the time is right
Flow as your rivers, to the seas of light
Far and near, you will be revered
Just and renowned, your peace shall abound
New-born land, your example stands
A frame for the world to come
